

Fire extinguisher training

Businesses that have fire extinguishers must provide training for team members to meet Health and Safety legislation guidelines; there's no point in having the right equipment to fight fires if you don't know how to use it!

This course meets those requirements and is perfect for people in:

- Transport and logistics – trucking, shipping, vehicle repair
- Construction and trades
- Industrial and manufacturing – factories, workshops, printing and processing
- Commercial and office settings
- Agricultural and rural operations
- Retail and public spaces
- Healthcare

Module content includes:

- The fire triangle
- Types of extinguishers
- The PASS method
- Alternative fire suppression methods
- Fire classification
- Emergency response plans
- Fire prevention
- Fire wardens
- Inspection and maintenance

How does the course work?

This engaging video-based course is available on a smartphone, tablet or computer wherever you have internet access. It takes around 1.5 hours which can be spread over up to six months. Your trainees can do it as many times as they like in this time. You can issue a certificate once the course is finished.

Is there literacy and language support?

Videos have subtitles in 13 languages, and the questions can be translated into 72 languages. There are audio recordings for all questions in English.

How do you get your trainees enrolled?

Contact the person that sent you this brochure, or visit www.drivingtests.co.nz/courses, search 'fire', add the course to your cart and check out, or please email contact@drivingtests.co.nz